

Members Code of Behaviour

1. Code of Behaviour

Upon becoming a Member of Swan Districts Football Club (Swans), you agree that you will abide by the following Members Code of Behaviour.

Swans provides a safe and secure environment for everyone.

As a Club, we are against all forms of abuse, or any other action that degrades or disparages people and negatively impacts their connection with the club and/or match-day experience. Our Club is for everyone, and we want our members to be expressive and in full voice when supporting our Club, but we also expect that they are mindful of their surroundings.

As a Swans Member, you will abide by the values and the fundamental principles of our Club. While barracking and cheering are a part of our great game, club members are accountable to the Code of Behaviour and club values.

We understand that football is an emotional game and sometimes these emotions can get the better of us; however, under no circumstances is it acceptable for patrons to make comments that may offend others or are abusive in nature to fellow patrons, players or umpires. It is everybody's responsibility to ensure that match days are enjoyable for everyone.
